MULCH HOSE FITTINGS

PT's MULCH HOSE FITTINGS, also referred to as "Helix Fittings", create a flexible, swivel seal with full assemblies that mate two mulch hoses fittings together to make a longer hose. The swivel feature assists with moving the assembly during service while preventing "hose kink".

The lightweight A356-T6 Aluminum fittings are durable when dropped and moved, however they are not rated to a high working pressure as blowing mulch is a low pressure application through light-phase conveyance. The nearly full flow ID of the swivel assemblies minimizes clogging and blockage from mulch and other dry bulk media (hydroseed, etc.) found in other fittings lacking a full flow design. In addition, the "no hose shank" full flow design allows for minimal fitting material exposure to media being transferred (enhanced fitting service life).

FEATURES:

- MADE IN THE USA
- Lightweight for easier handling
- Ease of Installation
- Swivels in service prevent hose kink
- Works with Mulch Hose & Mulch Blower Hose

SWIVELS

When choosing a left-hand versus right-hand fitting or full assemblies, this is dependent on the threading direction of the hose that will be utilized and the connecting point from where the media will be offloaded. PT's currently offers Mulch Hose Fittings for six different brands of hose.

CAM & GROOVE FITTINGS

Alternatively, single fittings are optimal for connecting the transfer point from a tank to hose while the full assemblies are ideal for preventing "hose kink" and allow access for tensionless movement of the hose.
